Tip of the Week

Catching a Flyball

Run to the spot you think ball will come down. Raise your hands up and out in front of your face, and keep your thumbs together. Look over top of glove. Don't allow the ball to get over your head. Square your shoulders to flight of the ball. Keep your feet slightly staggered.

Note:
The data table shown on this page is the same as the Visitors view of the League Officers page that is linked from League Profile.

The differences are:

- the top of the page, as defined above, is different, to provide a League Communities context
- the ability to select and invite a League Officer to be a fan of the Team Home page. On the regular League Officers page, the action is to assign and remove their status as a League Officer and / or League Admin.

League Fans

The screenshot shows a web page titled "League Fans" with a sub-header "League Communities". On the right, there is a button labeled "Invite A Friend". Below the header, there is an "Invite..." link with a handwritten "1912" next to it. A "Show me:" label is followed by a search bar containing "1908" and two buttons: "Delete Selected" and "Cancel". A handwritten "1910" is next to the "Cancel" button. Below this is a table with columns: "Name", "myteam ID", and "Select". The "Name" column has a sub-header "Last Name, First". The "myteam ID" column has a sub-header "myteamuserid". The "Select" column has checkboxes. The table contains five rows of data. To the left of the table, there is a vertical label "action on hyperlink". Below the table, there are three arrows pointing up to the "Name", "myteam ID", and "Select" columns, with handwritten numbers "1902", "1904", and "1906" respectively. A large black rectangular redaction covers the left side of the page.
